Armstrong Family Winery

We believe every vintage, every variety calls for winemaking that brings out the unique flavor and characters of those particular grapes. While we are influenced by our first wine love, the wines of Bordeaux, we like to think our approach is Bordeaux-inspired rather than Bordeaux style.

Alluvium Cellars

Alluvium Cellars is a boutique winery located in Woodinville, Washington crafting premium wines with old-world inspiration and a modern flair. The winery name was inspired by the soil at a family property on the Klickitat River in the Columbia Gorge AVA where ground is being cleared to plant a future vineyard. Alluvium wines are made from premium fruit sourced from a number of the top vineyards in Washington state and are produced in small lots, allowing the winemaking team to focus on every detail of the process.

Barrage Cellars

Winemaker/owner Kevin Correll began making handcrafted wine in Woodinville in 2006 and is currently producing approximately 3000 cases annually. He focuses on producing high quality single varietal Bordeaux wines, and other varietals and has won several awards for wine he has produced.

Many consider Kevin Correll as being a "rising star" in the wine industry. Honors include being the featured winemaker at the Taste of Tulalip in 2011 and he participated in the 2012 Iron Vintner Challenge at Willows Lodge in Woodinville. These premium wines are great examples of why Washington wines are quickly becoming known worldwide.

Bartholomew Winery

Winery was founded by Bart and Chona Fawbush in Seattle in 2007. Bartholomew Winery has been producing high quality single varietals and blended wines since then. Bart works with lesser-known grape varieties such as Tannat, Primitivo, and Albariño. Their philosophy is to produce the kinds of bottlings that pair well with food, family and friends.

In 2017, Bart moved his family and winery from Seattle to Kennewick Washington so he could be closer to the vineyards. Bartholomew Winery now has a new tasting room and state-of-the-art production facility along the banks of the Columbia River in Kennewick.

Caprio Cellars

Caprio Cellars is a small producer of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Malbec Semillon, and Sauvignon Blanc located in the heart of Walla Walla Valley, Washington, one of the premier winegrowing regions in the world.

Dennis Murphy moved to the Walla Walla Valley in 1999 with an inherited drive to be a part of the winemaking taking place in the area. He purchased the land where Caprio Cellars' tasting room, wine making facility, and the Eleanor Estate Vineyard now stand in 2003. The first plantings for the Eleanor Vineyard went in 2005, which Dennis named after his late grandmother Eleanor Caprio.

It is our hope to provide you with outstanding wine and a memorable experience for you, your family and friends. Our winery design was inspired by the Southern region of Spain called Andalucia where the majestic blue waters of the Atlantic Ocean meets up with the stark white buildings and Terra Cotta tile roofs of Los Pueblos Blancos. —Sam and Deborah Castillo, owners

This family-owned and operated winery recently relocated from North Bend to Richland in the Tri-Cities closer to the vineyards. The grapes for these wines are from some of Washington's best vineyards in the Red Mountain, Snipes Mountain, Wahluke Slope, Horse Heaven Hills and Columbia Valley areas. Winemaker Scott Greenberg learned his craft at the Northwest Wine Academy at South Seattle College.

Nine Hats Winery

NINE HATS

Launched in 2007, Nine Hats was inspired by Long Shadows' team of nine internationally renowned vintners. A decade later, the portfolio now stands on its own, with a tip of the hat to those who first envisioned it.

In the beginning, there was one Nine Hats wine, a red blend created from Long Shadows' declassified barrels to support the winemakers' ongoing, strict selection process for their signature wines. The overwhelming success of the Red Wine led to the expansion of the brand and Nine Hats has come out of the "shadows" to assemble a portfolio of nine uniquely sophisticated wines. The wines are made in Walla Walla and are styled for quality and everyday enjoyment.

Lodmell Cellars

The Winemaker: Kristie Lodmell, From Wheat to Vine to Wine - coming full circle, back to my Walla Walla 4th Generation roots! In 2009, Kristie left a Corporate life and committed her time to Lodmell Cellars full time, and moved back to Walla Walla. Today, she's living out a dream of being back "home" with family, the farm, the vineyard, closer to the wine and tasting room, and working closely with her father, Miles, and the family ranch & vineyard.

The Vineyards: Lodmell Cellars continues to produce some of Walla Walla's finest Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon. Each wine is hand crafted and barrel aged in small lots. Additional Lodmell Cellars varietals include Estate Cabernet Sauvignon, Estate Saignee (Rosé), Estate Syrah, Sublime (Red Blend), Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Semillon and Port. Lodmell Vineyards is located on bluffs above the Snake River near Fishhook Park in Walla Walla County. It has a southern sloping exposure.

Martedi Winery

Martedi Winery is a small winery located in Woodinville. 2016 marked the tenth vintage for this fast growing winery. Winemaker Joseph Miglino has over 25 years of experience in the wine industry. The winery is operated primarily by Joseph, his brother John, and with family and selected friends.

The passion for winemaking runs in the Miglino family, from the original Miglino immigrants to Ellis Island in New York and as far back as the ancestral village of Rutino in the Campagna region of southern Italy. Now the third generation of Miglinos makes wine in America but their ancestors in Rutino made wine for many generations.

Todd's wine journey began during his teenage years, helping his uncle with his small winery in Walla Walla. This background laid the foundation for what was to come.

Dee and Todd first discovered Page Cellars in the early 2000s—they were drawn to the robust house wine style and the energy of an urban working winery. They became club members and eventually cellar volunteers, with Todd often helping founder Jim Page in the winery. Fast forward to 2021, New Year's Day. The couple was looking to establish a family business and create a legacy for their children, and Todd was considering his next career step. Dee stumbled upon a local winery listed for sale; they suspected the listing to be Page Cellars---- and the rest is history.

Owning a winery was a natural step for Dee and Todd. The Krivoshein household was always a hub for entertaining, and hosting winery guests became a natural extension. The couple's decision to establish their business in the Woodinville Warehouse District was an intentional one. They wanted to create something hands-on and immersive, a working winery where they could share the winemaking process.

Patterson Cellars

Winemaker and Owner, John Patterson, creates approachable, new world style wines. Drawn to the science behind the art of winemaking, he considers the craft to be, “a unique puzzle as you approach harvest to produce wines that are consistent from year to year,” which speaks to the quality and caliber of the wines from Patterson Cellars.

John worked harvest at Quilceda Creek for 13 years then decided on a career change. He started Patterson Cellars in the year 2000 in the Warehouse District of Woodinville, and now produces over 19,000 cases of wine each year. He opened a 2nd tasting room in Woodinville’s Hollywood Hill Winery District in 2012, a 3rd in the Bavarian town of Leavenworth in 2017, a 4th tasting room in Seattle’s Sodo neighborhood, and then a 5th in the Southside District of Walla Walla.

Pondera Winery

Pondera is a family owned, boutique winery established in 2005. We specialize in the production of high quality, well balanced red and white varietals and red blends made from grapes sourced from some of Washington’s most highly regarded vineyards. Each wine is very limited with our production just under 3000 cases annually.

Owner/winemaker, Shane Howard, has proven his ability for creating outstanding wines year after year, consistently winning Gold, Double Gold and “Diamond of the Decade” awards from competitions across the state. He was honored as one of the 2021 Washington Wine Award “Winemakers of the Year”.

We age our wines longer in barrel and bottle than most wineries, so they are ready to drink upon release. Our plan is to stay small, keeping a hands-on approach to producing outstanding hand-crafted wines in limited quantities.

Rider Cellars

Rider Cellars is a boutique winery located in Selah, Washington. Family owned and operated, each vine in our Estate Vineyard is nurtured by hand throughout the growing season. Just like our family, our vines are rooted and established in love. In 2016 we decided to pursue the idea of starting our own winery. That idea quickly became a reality when Kristen stumbled across what we call, a hidden gem. The vineyard was planted in 2000 and sits upon an immaculate piece of land just over 5 acres.

We believe great wine is made in the vineyard, and we are committed to producing the highest quality fruit each vintage. We don't just make wine, we grow it. We respect the land where our vines are cultivated by using only organic practices through hard work, blood, sweat, tears and determination. We are simply stewards of the land. Our wines are handcrafted in small batches from single vineyard fruit. From our soil to your soul, taste the love we have poured into each bottle.

Sparkman Cellars

We (Kelly, Mom/President/Founding Winemaker and Chris Sparkman, Dad/President/Founding Winemaker) launched Sparkman Cellars in Woodinville, Washington in 2004 to focus on our family. In Year One we made one baby girl: 12 barrels of wine (289 cases) and three labels in a tiny warehouse. In Year Three we made another baby girl: opened our first tasting room, made 1425 cases of wine and eight labels. We have now grown our annual production to over 12,000 cases in our shiny new winery, tasting room and event hall at the old Redhook Brewery in Woodinville. The babies are now in high school. We remain a family-owned and operated winery committed to making wines that are considered among the finest in the world.

Why did we start our winery? Well, we wrote all the vision stuff like 'Our intention is to make wines that are considered among the finest available, and that will hopefully find their way onto your table' and such, which is true. Then we asked ourselves, 'Why don't we just tell them what we stand for?' So that's where our tagline came from: Family. Good Livin'.

Real Fine Wine. Seems like that makes sense to people. Especially if your wine is delicious and your kids are good people.

Synne Cellars

The reputation, history and development of Synne Cellars wines is interwoven with the quality and individual character of our intentionally and carefully chosen vineyards, farms, and farmers.

At the very heart of our winemaking philosophy is the requirement of not only the 'right fruit' but the right people as well. Isaac Schmid's commitment to health-conscious winemaking is evident in every bottle that bears the Synne Cellars label. Beyond crafting exquisite flavors, he is dedicated to ensuring that each sip is a celebration of both taste and well-being. This dedication has led him to explore and address various challenges in winemaking, from the impact of molds to navigating the complexities of allergens and sensitivities.

Wautoma Springs

Boutique Winery

In 2008 Jessica Munnell approached Tom Merkle about working together to create a wine that featured his grapes. A partnership was formed that became Wautoma Wines – made of the best Cabernet Sauvignon from Wautoma Springs and Malbec from Wahluke Slope’s Stone Tree Vineyard. The epitome of a boutique winery, producing extremely small-lot, hand-crafted wines from people who know the business inside and out. This isn't a venture capitalist's or a lawyer's winery - not that there's anything wrong with that. We know the soil. We know the vines. And we know how to make good wine. Our story is in every bottle.

St Josef's Estate Vineyards & Winery

Planted in 1978, with their first legal vintage in 1983, St. Josef's is one of the first handful of enthusiasts who recognized the Willamette Valley for having the right soils, climate and attitude for world class wines. They grow and make wines in five Estate Vineyards; these 30 year old vines, along with a "hands-off" style, create distinctive wines with character and vibrancy. Their stewardship of the land includes growing without the use of irrigation, harsh chemicals and pesticides and has earned both "Salmon Safe" and "LIVE" certifications and recognition. Enjoy the wines and experience the old world charm.

Chateau Diana

Chateau Diana Winery was founded in 1981, but its beginnings were crafted along a career path that would take Tom Manning and later his young family on a coast-to-coast journey. Tom was orphaned as a child and raised by his aunt. Though he never finished high school, he was a hard worker from the age of 14. Sales seemed to come naturally to Tom and he moved through the sales ranks of various companies. Eventually, he found a natural fit within the wine industry.

In 1983, a dream was realized with the purchase of the LeBaron Ranch encompassing 60 acres in the Dry Creek Valley. 30 years later, the Manning family honors the LeBaron's legacy of maintaining a family-owned winery. The business continued to grow with a sales office in Southern California, which their daughter Dawn runs herself. In 1991 another son, Corey joined his sister in the family business.

The period between 1999 and 2001 held many changes for Chateau Diana and the Manning family, saddest of which was the unexpected loss of winemaker, Craig Manning. The continued growth of the business within this family struggle, including necessary expansions to the winery facility, was shouldered by Dawn, Corey, and Craig's Wife, Donna. Their dedication and commitment to hard work is a deep family conviction and is key to the accomplishments at Chateau Diana. When walking the grounds of Chateau Diana you can feel the love and care Craig Manning put into the winery before his passing. He is gone but never forgotten.

Trione Winery

TRIONE Vineyards & Winery "Our vision was to look at the grapes that we had; all of the varieties from the several ranches and appellations, and take the top three percent to make Trione wines. We'd select the varieties from locations where we thought the soil was the best and the clones were the finest and bring those into our winery. We wanted to do something that set us apart from many other wineries. With the technology in the wine industry being so shared, the difference is the vineyards." —Mark Trione

FONCALIEU

Les Vignobles Foncalieu are a union of cooperatives anchored in the heart of Languedoc. Our territory stretches from the Corbières massif to the banks of the Mediterranean, from the Mistral-swept hillsides to the sun-caressed plains between Carcassonne and Béziers.

It is in the heart of these landscapes, situated between ocean and mountains, that all our wine growers tend to our 4,000 hectares of vines every day in order to offer Foncalieu the high-quality grapes used to produce exceptional wines.

A cooperative with strong values since 1967, our 650 winegrowers cultivate team spirit, authenticity, innovation and a shared passion... all of which have led Foncalieu to be named as one of the 50 most well-known brands of wine in the world by the trade magazine Drinks International in 2017.

Domaine de L'Espigouette

At Domaine de l'Espigouette, they carefully work the vineyard (various plowing, budding, leafing, harvesting, etc.) according to the climatic characteristics of vintage and different terroirs. This multiplicity of the soil allows for complexity to the different wines of the area, the rollers provide rich, bold wines, while sandy, clay soils provide elegance, finesse and depth to the wines. The average age of vines is 45 years for the Côtes du Rhône and Plan de Dieu vines. The vineyards are harvested mechanically, but only when they have reached maximum ripeness for the best concentration of fruit, and they are carefully sorted before harvest. Domaine de l'Espigouette has been owned by the family for four generations. The vineyard is now run by Bernard Latour, his wife and two sons, Julian and Emilien. The estate vineyard is located in the Rhone Valley of France.

Les Jamelles

If one had to sum up the history of Les Jamelles wines in a few words, "the fruit of auspicious encounters" would be the natural choice... The history of these wines has been punctuated by several more or less fortuitous encounters that led to the creation of the brand in the early 1990s and to its development over the last two decades.

Each Les Jamelles wine is the result of a blend of grapes from diverse, meticulously selected terroirs. Each terroir is unique, standing out for its location, exposure, soil profile and climate, which impart particular organoleptic characteristics to the grapes cultivated there.

Catherine and her team endeavour to blend the wines from different terroirs in order to produce cuvées that boast perfect balance. Cuvées that are typical of their varietal with a style that is delectable, harmonious and expressive.

Bodegas Care

Care, the Bodegas Añadas brand, is the ancient name used by the Romans to refer to the town of Cariñena, which then became Caraellana, "the dear plain". This etymology refers to our roots and our love for the land. In the English-speaking world, it also refers to the care we take and the respect we show in making all our wines. With our roots in tradition, we are now oriented towards a new kind of consumer.

So, our brand image takes the form of faces, the original work of the artist Enrique Torrijos. An artistic image inspired in primitive art that brings together various ideas and a universally identifiable term, CARE, blend concepts in unique, innovative wines.

Quinta de Covela

Dating from the 1500s, the ruins of the old, stone Casa de Covela, today composed of the facade of the original Renaissance manor house and the more recent chapel of St. Quiteria, bear witness to the centuries-old agricultural and cultural importance of the estate. In more recent times, the Covela estate belonged to Manoel de Oliveira, one of the most important European film directors of the second half of the 20th Century and an incredible spirit who worked until his death, with 106 years of age. The director, himself a Renaissance Man, enlarged and transformed Covela, that originally came to him as his wife's dowry, on several fronts: he built or rebuilt aqueducts for irrigation; massive stone walls; a series of houses and warehouses and ample stone sun-terraces for drying what was once the farm's main crop - corn.

Marta (by Monte Tondo)

Named after the wineries own matriarch, Marta Magnabosco, "Marta" is a label made by Monte Tondo exclusively for Ambrosia Selections. This label is a testament to their dedication to family, both in Italy and here in the PNW. The Monte Tondo vineyard can be found nestling in the gentle hills of Soave just a few kilometers from Serona on a slope overlooking the valley. 32 hectares of vineyards are situated on the best plots that the Soave zone can offer: Monte Tenda, Monte Foscarino and Monte Tondo, from which the vineyard takes its name, ensure that the wine produced has an intense perfume, a bouquet ranging from floral to fruity with an unmistakable flavor. The vine-grower, Gino Magnabosco, together with his family, carry on this very passion that traditions have handed down.

Rubinelli Vajol

It's best if we just let winemaker Nicola Scienza explain it himself. "The Rubinelli Vajol philosophy is to offer the beauty and delicious goodness coming from the very heart of Valpolicella. The land of Vajol is located in the center of Valpolicella. The charm of our country house, our cellars, of the Corte of Sant'Anna, and the village of Vajol, the landscape covered in vineyards, defined by brick walls, decorated by olive trees, and cherry blossoms and almond trees, is the very essence of Valpolicella's classical beauty. Our delicious wine, a sublime nectar produced by our grapes, contains a sweet secret stored in the heart of Valpolicella: a slow time, during which our grapes mature in the valley kissed by the sun, and protected by the rolling hills. The correct time for the grapes to rest and finally enjoy sleepy dreams inside great oak barrels, in the cool cellar built into the side of the mountain."

Daniele Conterno

Daniele Conterno considers himself a very lucky boy! He does the job he loves and is supported by his large beautiful family in one of the most perfect places in the world. He represents the fourth generation of producers. Starting with Great Grandfather Pietro Conterno and 18 hectares of land. The land passed to his legendary Grandfather Giacomo. Then to his father Fran-co who he still works with everyday. The vines are grown without the aid of synthetic chemical (herbicides, fungicides, insecticides, pesticides in general) and genetically modified organisms, while in the cellar, vinification is carried out using exclusively oenological products and processes that are approved under European Regulations. This philosophy allows all the flavors, scents, and character of the Langhe —a land cultivated with passion and wisdom —to appear in our wines, echoing the voice of nature.

Specially selected grapes arrive at the winery to be crushed and then vinified combining advanced methods and technologies with the most traditional Sicilian wine tradition. The wine is stored in a temperature and humidity controlled room and then refined and aged in French oak barriques and then in bottles. Baracchi

winery

Baracchi has 22 hectares (around 50 acres) of vineyards located in three separate locations. What all have in common is optimum sun exposure around noon. The choice of wine grapes was determined in part by plant leaves and rind thickness and their ability to adapt to the sometimes adverse weather conditions in each vineyard's unique microclimate. The winery was established in San Martino, where the land is at an altitude of about 300m and is sandy and well drained. The vines of Syrah and Sangiovese wines grown here produce elegant ethereal scents.

Italy: Tuscany

Poggio del Moro estate is located in the middle of Tuscany, the heaven of smoky slopes, to the south of Montepulciano, in the neighborhood of old Chianciano. The estate had been created through the love and passion of Tania and Alex during the last 10 years with the help of a professional, young and passionate team from all over the world.

“We are doing our best to express the unique aspects of the regions’ terroir and thus find expression of ourselves: our feelings and our soul!”

Their faithfulness to traditions, unsurpassed elegance and excellence, love of nature and caring attitude to each and every grape and olive tree – these are the basic principles of Poggio del Moro philosophy which is to express the soul of their vineyards.

“Natural fermentation produced by the yeasts from our own vineyards for maximum expression of the ‘soul’ of our vineyards!”

The wines are cultivated by hand with strict respect for nature and tradition, and careful attention to each production step. Our task is not to use ambient yeasts, but to use the yeast directly from our vineyards! The target of their research is to use the grapes’ own microflora (microorganisms), to multiply the yeasts and to let them ferment the musts. This is the real natural expression of their terroir and goes to define the passion, knowledge, attention and love that is the Poggio del Moro Style.

Terre Margaritelli—Organic Certified in Italy

Terre Margaritelli

Since 1870, the Margaritelli family has associated their name and history with the unique nature of this land, a region fortunate in its environment and artistry, backed by a rich tradition of mysticism and sacred character. From a determination to infuse products with the worth and genuineness of the land, in synergy with the passion and creativity that for decades has inspired and distinguished the family Margaritelli, is born a label profoundly authentic: Terre Margaritelli.

Around thirty hectares are designated for regular production and market, while the other 22 hectares consist of experimental vines. The winery, in fact, in line with a family tradition always oriented towards innovation and the quest for perfection, is equipped with an experimental wine laboratory which works with small quantities of diverse varieties. They test the production of each and seek to optimize the process of vinification, in relation to the specifications unique to the terroir of Torgiano.

Claudio Quarta Vignaiolo Selections

«The South that excites» is the motto of Claudio Quarta Vignaiolo. The "cluster" model was born from the mind of the Entrepreneur and achieves the synthesis between producing quality wines linked to the different chosen territories and the need to exceed a critical production volume to play a role on international markets. In the "bunch" each grape is a winery that aims to produce the best wines of its territory, faithful to it and to the variety.

The model is a guarantee of quality. Each grape, that is to say each winery, cannot increase its production beyond a certain volume and thus overcome that imaginary line that could lead it to sacrifice quality. The company can grow in volumes, beyond those limits, only through the creation/incorporation of other cellars: the Grappolo can contain up to twelve. Currently there are three grapes / cellars.

Our Sustainable Lifestyle / PROTECTING OUR LAND

Sustainability still has varied definitions in our world. At Ilauri we aim to give the term Clear focus and a concrete meaning. It is more than simply an aspiration or mission. It is our lifestyle.

The Estate: 35 Hectares of Vineyards. Located in a bucolic corner of Central Abruzzo region, the origin of the name is found in Ancient Roman times and is credited to a forest of bay leave trees that supposedly dominated the original hill on which the town was built. Loreto Aprutino boasts ancient origins dating back to Italic, Roman and early Christian settlements. The Valle del Tavo offers a perfect combination of nature, art and sought-after authentic regional food and wine. Just a little further east lies the beautiful and wild coast bordering the Adriatic Sea.

Cantine Altavilla is born of an ambitious project of two families: Dragani and Marchesi De' Cordano in Abruzzo. Crystalline blue sea and hills as far as the eyes can see, together with the sky, create a synergy with the green of Altavilla's vineyards. Sand and clay are the basis of the aroma and the inner freshness of the wines. Amazing white and red wines, whose quality is the result of a research and favorable climatic factors. The grapes are cultivated without chemical products, where the hand of man recognizes time and seasons of the work. The result we obtain is: wines with a proper identity and with nice labels, young, fresh in the mouth and easy to drink.

CANTINA DI VENOSA

Cantina di Venosa

A wine with an intense ruby red colour and garnet hints, delicate blackcurrant fruits bouquet, an unmistakable and harmonious flavour which has fascinated wine connoisseurs all over the world. This is Aglianico del Vulture, a D.O.C. wine with more than 2000 years of history which represents the perfect marriage between the rich structure of a volcanic soil (Aglianico is in fact the volcano on the soil of which most of the Aglianico grapes are grown) and the lucky exposure of the gentle Venosa hills.

Founded in 1957 by 27 promoting members, Cantina di Venosa nowadays is an association of 400 members with about 800 hectares of vineyards, most of which are in the Venosa Commune: the largest producer of Aglianico grapes in the Vulture area. Aglianico is transferred in French and Slavonian oak barrels in order to achieve that superior quality for which it excels.

Slovenia

Klet Brda Winery was established in 1957 as a cooperative, which is still fully owned by local wine growers. The winery unites 400 families, who have been working together for over fifty years and have turned local wine making into a success story. Krasno is the premier line from Klet Brda. These wines represent the unique characteristics of the Goriška Brda region in Slovenia which produce wines with minerality, bright acid, and incredible fruit. Krasno is the premier line from the winery.

Up to the end of World War II, when the Brda hills were split in two by the border between Yugoslavia and Italy, this area had known a special type of feudalism called the colonate system. Peasants had cultivated small patches of land, and wine had only been produced by 17 local castles, owned by foreign nobility.

At Klet Brda, they believe that the production of great wines starts with respect for the land, community, and future generations. They are committed to produce wines according to practices that are responsible to nature and people producing the grapes and wine, while at the same time contributing to their long-term economic success.

Beau Joubert

The colorful story of the Joubert farm in the renowned Stellenbosch Wine Region of South Africa dates back to 1695 when Governor Simon van der Stel granted the land then known as Veelverjaagt, to Coenraed Visser. A century later, in 1795, the farm was bought by a French Huguenot descendant, Dirk Daniel Joubert, who divided it between his two sons. One of them retained the Veelverjaagt name while the other named his portion La Provence, to honor the birthplace of his forefathers. Five Joubert generations have since placed their unique stamp on this mountainous 80-hectare estate.

An exciting new era dawned at the turn of the millennium when a group of families from Wisconsin, USA fell in love with the grandeur of the Cape on their first visit to South Africa. This led to a vibrant American-South African joint venture and a change of name for the farm. The name BEAU JOUBERT combines the French for 'beautiful' with the name of the family who originally put the farm on the wine map. Adding to the sense of history is the fact that the dwellings built in the 1700s as well the splendid historic manor house built in the late 18th century still grace the estate.

VYBES

Mind+Body Function - VYBES is a functional wellness beverage with Hemp CBD (Cannabidiol) to help the mind & body reduce stress naturally.

Made by mother nature - CBD is a naturally occurring compound derived from the hemp plant that helps the body manage stress naturally.

“VYBES isn't a beverage, it's a feeling - a way to a more balanced life.

I started making VYBES because I had to. It's become my mission to share the mind & body powers of CBD with everyone I can. I was introduced to CBD by a close friend, and this miraculous nutrient, a gift from mother nature, has changed my life.

For too long, we've ignored the physical and emotional toll that living in this fast-paced, chaotic world is causing to our well-being.

Everyone and everything is competing for our time & attention. We have more demands on us today as human beings than at any time in modern history and it's wreaking havoc on our mind & body.

The World Health Organization estimates that by 2020, stress & anxiety will become the number one cause of disease in young people. That's striking and unacceptable. Modern medicine isn't always the answer. A change in lifestyle is. CBD is a non-psychoactive gift from mother Nature.” - Jonathan Eppers, Founder
